ABOUT THE PRO MAKEUP BLOG

Founded in 2010, The Pro Makeup Blog started out as a hobby but, over the past 8 years I have been lucky to work with some amazing brands and showcase their products at The Pro Makeup Blog.

The Pro Makeup Blog is always happy to work with brands new and old, All posts on The Pro Makeup Blog are written with 100% honesty, my reviews will always be based on my own experiences with that product. Products and brands featured on The Pro Makeup Blog should be relevant to the style and theme of the website. This includes beauty; makeup, body care, skincare and haircare.

The Pro Makeup Blog is happy to work with brands on campaigns and new product launches, as well as providing content within the brand's time-frame. However, if a feature is required on or by a certain date this must be specified in the initial communications; otherwise, the feature will go live according to my schedule.

Please ensure your brand/products and request are a good fit before contacting me. All requests should be emailed to the address listed below.
